✠ A Faithful Witness

One more true story: Two men, unacquainted with each other, were seated recently together on a train and began a casual conversation. The older man, Charlie, was a caring and enthusiastic Catholic. When the younger man sensed that his fellow traveller was interested, he told his story. He had never completed college and had been unemployed for years. He was now heading home to Sheffield to donate a kidney to his father, who was seriously ill. He didn't know what he was going to do after that. Charlie later described the young man as a person who had not found his niche or purpose in life. For Charlie, it seemed like the right moment to tell this young man about the love of God and how God had a purpose and a Plan of Love for him. Charlie spent maybe six or eight minutes telling this wanderer how to submit himself to God and how to start the journey of faith. He later told a friend that he had seldom seen a more appreciative response from someone. The young man said that he'd always felt that there had to be some meaning and purpose to his life. Charlie added that when the man finished thanking him, Charlie felt as if he had just told a hungry person where to find food. For most of us, being a faithful witness to our faith doesn't mean accosting strangers or holding prayer meetings at work. It does mean that when those moments come where another person has opened up his or her life and invited us in, we be willing to tell about the Lord who means so much to us.

Prayer for Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in this Holy Sacrament of the altar.
I love you above all things and I passionately desire to receive you into my soul.
Since I cannot now receive you sacramentally,
come spiritually into my soul
so that I may unite myself wholly to you now and forever. Amen.

PLEASE TAKE YOUR COPY OF THE BULLETIN HOME WITH YOU OR PASS

Prayer of Abandonment

Father, I abandon myself into your hands; do with me what you will.

Whatever you may do, I thank you: I am ready for all, I accept all.

Let only your will be done in me, and in all your creatures.

I wish no more than this, O Lord.

Into your hands I commend my soul; I offer it to you with all the love of my heart, for I love you, Lord,

and so need to give myself,

to surrender myself into your hands, without reserve,

and with boundless confidence, for you are my Father.

Thoughts for the Assumption of Mary

Next Sunday, we have the Solemnity of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Here are some thoughts for the day: The Assumption reminds us that every Marian feast is really about the church herself. Mary embodies the Word of God just as we are invited to do. Her suffering models our determination to face life's difficulties, trusting that God is always present. Her compassion for those in need, especially God's "anawim" — the little ones displaced and manipulated by others — is our summons to indignation. Her Magnificat (Luke 1:44-55) expresses the belief that in the end, goodness and truth will triumph over abuses of power, over the arrogance of privilege. It is women, both vowed and lay, who are inarguably the principal agents of care for the poor. Women and children are also clearly the first victims of violence, poverty and disrespect in a man's world. There will be no church of the poor without the full participation and collaboration of women. The call from the Holy Father is a call to the Holy Mothers everywhere to transform the Church into a Marian Church — open like Mary to the power of the Holy Spirit and ready to serve the needs of others with courage and humility. The Assumption of Our Lady reminds us of our own destiny — all we have to do is to say "yes" to God.
